

Part 8

A Few Words on Security

11th September 2001

The day the world changed!

Terrorism Has Affected Traffic

- Increased security = more hassle
- 'White knuckle' fliers even more reluctant to fly
- A major aircraft accident could have same effect as another terrorism incident

It is essential to maintain the highest levels of safety

Security vs. Safety

Security

- essential ingredient
- not cheap
- vigilance must be maintained

Safety

- constantly improved over the years
- maintained by many defenses
- not cheap
- defenses must not be relaxed

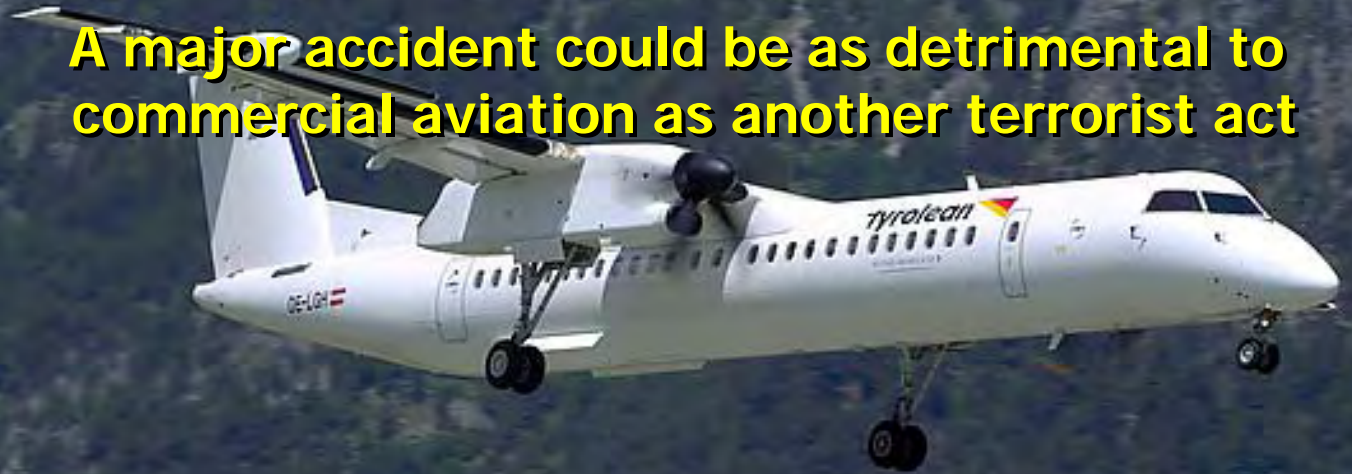

Safety concerns have not changed since 9/11

Security vs. Safety

Security is important, but so is Safety

A major accident could be as detrimental to commercial aviation as another terrorist act

Safety must not be neglected

The industry can not afford a safety problem on top of everything else!

Commercial Aviation

The primary risk is from an accident, not a terrorist act!

Safety must not be neglected

Aviation Today

But we must not forget
safety
